Certification Services

ISO 9001 Quality Management System

This is a quality management system standard. It applies to all types and sizes of organizations irrespective of their operations. It provides a framework to monitor and improve process performance. It also helps product / service oriented organizations to achieve recognized standards of quality.

ISO 9001 is the world's most established quality framework, currently being used by around 897,000 organizations in 170 countries. ISO 9001 is compatible with other management systems standards and specifications.

OHSAS 18001 Occupational Health & Safety

OHSAS 18001 is the internationally recognized assessment specification for occupational health and safety management systems. OHSAS defines requirements of safe and healthy working environment by identifying and controlling health and safety risks, reducing the potential for accidents, legislative compliance and overall improvement in organizational performance.

ISO 14001 Environmental Management System

ISO 14001 EMS is an environmental management system standard. It helps all types of organizations to protect the environment, to prevent pollution, and to improve their environmental system efficiency. It is an internationally recognized standard enabling organizations achieve profits & environmental objectives. Environmental issues are becoming significant and getting global focus and organizations that are certified to this standard have a clear competitive edge.

ISO 22000 Food Safety Management System

ISO 22000 is an international standard that defines the requirements of a food safety management system covering food processing, food production and food supply organizations including inter-related organizations such as producers of equipment, packaging material, cleaning agents and ingredients.

This standard provides a systematic and proactive approach to identify food safety hazards and development and implementation of control measures.

ISO 27001 Information Security Management System

ISO 27001 standard is an information security management standard which defines information security management requirements. Information security is an important issue for organizations dealing with sensitive data / information. Requirements to ensure proper security of information to manage and protect valuable information assets is catered for while implementing this standard. ISO 27001 is the only ISMS auditable international standard. It is designed to ensure the selection of adequate security controls to protect information assets and give confidence to clients and other interested parties.

HACCP Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points

Hazard Analysis of Critical Control Points is the main platform for international legislation and good manufacturing practices for all sectors of the food industry. HACCP is a risk management tool recognized internationally for use in the proactive management of food safety issues. HACCP system helps to focus on the hazards that affect food safety through hazard identification. It establishes critical control limits at critical points during the production process.

Social Accountability / Social Compliance

Worldwide the awareness regarding Social Compliance is increasing. Customers prefer to work with organizations complying with social standards and encourage social awareness among their employees & contractors.

The areas covered under social compliance standard include child labor, forced labor, harassment / abuse, health & safety, working environment, compensation & benefits, working hours, applicable labor laws / worker's rights, and collective bargaining. Organizations certified to Social Accountability standards enjoy a competitive edge and recognition globally.

HALAL Product Certification

In Europe & America the demand for HALAL food is increasing day by day and people prefer to buy certified HALAL products from the manufacturers. HALAL is not only meat & meat products, but also all food & many non-food items come under the scope of HALAL.

We provide certification services to the interested parties seeking HALAL certifications to become fully aware of, and achieve a position where they are capable of producing and manufacturing authentic HALAL products.
